Dear Parents

Author Visit

I am very excited to inform you that on Friday 8th October we have the award-winning children's author, Ross Montgomery visiting school for the day. He will be working with all children from Reception to Year 6, running sessions based on some of his published books which I am sure will inspire all our children across the school.

At the end of the school day we will have Woodstock Bookshop selling Ross's books, including those he has used during his sessions with our classes in school. Ross will be there to sign any copies of his books you decide to purchase on that day, so children will have something to treasure and they could also be a unique Christmas present for someone!

The gate to the playground will be open early and we would like to invite you to make your way to our "outdoor classroom" where Ross's books will be available to purchase from 2.45 onwards. Woodstock Bookshop have requested cash where possible although card payment will be available. They are kindly offering the school a 15% discount on any of Ross's books purchased.

I would like to say a huge thank you to our PTA who have made a significant financial contribution to this visit, and without whom this visit would not have been possible.

Please visit Ross Montgomery's website to find out a little more about him and his books.
